this volume aims to encourage informed debate on what it means to be a ' professional ' in this globalised 21st century. The book argues that ' becoming ' a professional is a lifelong process in which individual professional identities are constructed through formal education, workplace interactions and popular culture. The book advocates the ' ongoingness ' of developing a professional self throughout one ' s professional life. What emerges is a concept of becoming a professional different from the isolated, rugged, individualistic approach to traditional professional practice as represented in popular culture. It is a book for the reflective professional.
